Coming to Utrecht Safely

On March 23, the Dutch Government decided to ease most of the corona measures in the Netherlands. Therefore, a coronavirus entry pass and testing for events is no longer necessary. However, it is still advisable for everyone to keep following the recommendations: washing of hands regularly, taking precautions when coughing and sneezing and staying at home when experiencing symptoms.

Call for interest to HTA agencies in Europe: Patient involvement in European HTA

HTAi is looking for HTA agencies which have involved or are involving patients in the assessment processes and who are interested in participating in a European initiative for identifying valued patient involvement processes used in HTA through a 360° (with HTA practitioners, patients, and industry) analysis of current processes, experiences, and perceptions. The ask would be to select up to three case studies from the last few years that illustrate the agency's approach to patient involvement in the assessment of medicines, to share the reports or other relevant material on these case studies, and to be available for an interview – altogether about 2-3 hours of time. Towards the end of 2022, a co-creation workshop will be conducted to build consensus on the findings and reporting of the study.

This project is conducted by the Patient and Citizen Involvement Interest Group (PCIG) of HTAi.

If you are interested in this research project, please contact us at PCIG.Projects@health-os.com to set up an exploratory telephone discussion.
